

CODE:

The screenshot shows an IDE window titled 'POMASIN-AI' with a Dart file named 'main.dart'. The code defines a 'main' function that calculates an average and checks remarks. It uses 'print' statements to display the student profile and subject grades. The code is as follows:

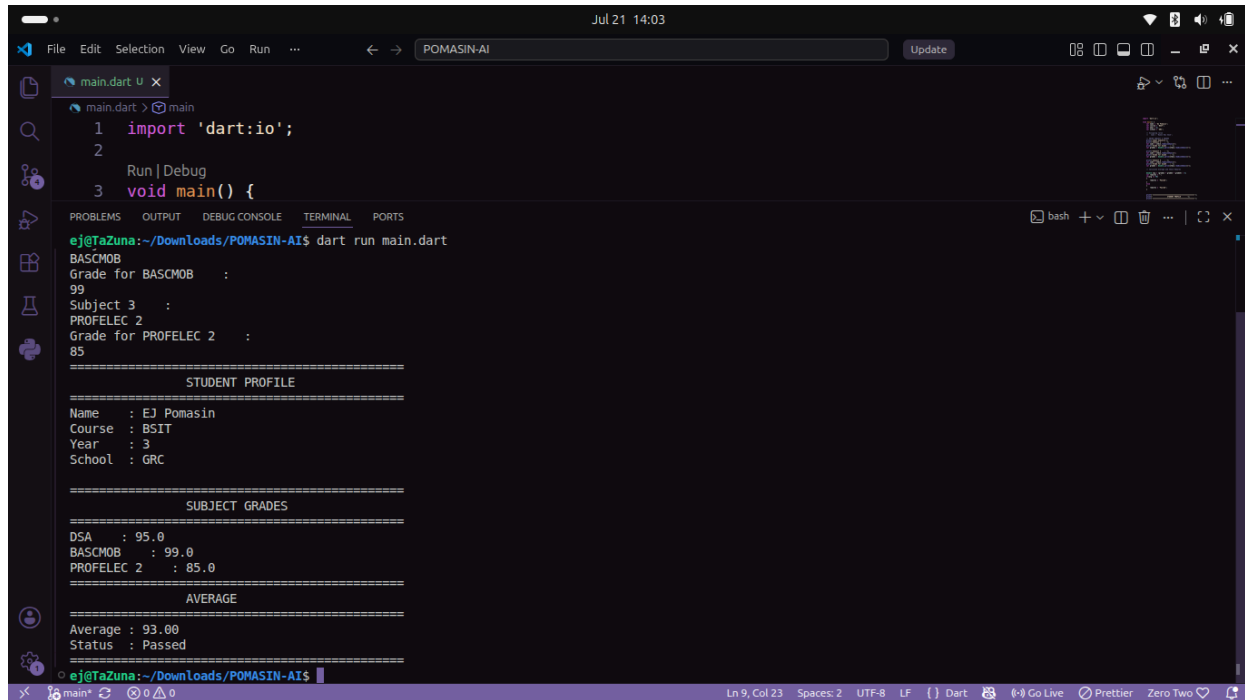

```
3 void main() {
26   // Calculate Average and Check Remarks
27
28   double avg = (grade1 + grade2 + grade3) / 3;
29   var remarks = '';
30   if(avg >= 75)
31   {
32     remarks = 'Passed';
33   }
34   else
35   {
36     remarks = 'Failed';
37   }
38
39   print('=====');
40   print('          STUDENT PROFILE          ');
41   print('=====');
42   print('Name      : $name');
43   print('Course    : $course');
44   print('Year      : $year');
45   print('School    : $school');
46   print('');
47   print('=====');
48   print('          SUBJECT GRADES          ');
49   print('=====');
```

The screenshot continues the Dart code from the previous block. It shows the final 'print' statements that output the subject grades, the average, and the status. The code is as follows:

```
50   print('=====');
51   print('$sub1      : $grade1');
52   print('$sub2      : $grade2');
53   print('$sub3      : $grade3');
54
55   print('=====');
56   print('          AVERAGE          ');
57   print('=====');
58   print("Average : ${avg.toStringAsFixed(2)}");
59   print("Status  : $remarks");
60   print('=====');
```

RESULT:

The screenshot shows an IDE window with a file named `main.dart` open. The code is as follows:

```
1 import 'dart:io';
2
3 void main() {
```

The IDE interface includes a sidebar with icons for Explorer, Search, Run and Debug, Source Control, Extensions, Testing, and Settings. The bottom panel is divided into four tabs: PROBLEMS, OUTPUT, DEBUG CONSOLE, and TERMINAL. The TERMINAL tab is active, showing the command `ej@TaZuna:~/Downloads/POMASIN-AI$ dart run main.dart` and its output:

```

The status bar at the bottom indicates the current cursor position is Ln 9, Col 23, with 2 spaces, UTF-8 encoding, LF line endings, and the Dart language.
